Our products do not contain sulfites.

Our procedures include:

- Training everyone who makes our products in allergen safety.
- Having specific allergen control procedures.
- Keeping egg products away from equipment being used for our products, and when shared equipment is used, testing each batch for traces of egg.
- Cleaning all equipment used for our product before it is made using a procedure proven to remove traces of egg.
- Inspecting the equipment to make sure it is clean.
- Testing equipment surfaces in key areas before processing starts.
- Testing the first packaged product of each run.
- No product is released to the market until all testing is completed.
